

Summer Reading 2022

Independent Reading will be a huge part of Literature Studies next year. I need your help creating a list of novels that will be of high interest to your peers. Please select a novel from any genre and complete the book review notes. Bring these notes to class the first day of school to help you create a book talk. Each student will be giving a book talk in class, and your peers will have the opportunity to read books throughout the year based on your recommendations.

Having trouble finding a book? Here are a few suggestions that might help in your selection:

- Visit the local library and stroll through the YA section
- Check out the staff recommendations at a bookstore
- Exchange a book with a sibling or friend
- Go online and search the top sellers on Amazon

As long as your novel is school appropriate, you have the freedom to choose whatever interests you. You can write your notes directly on the back of this paper, or if you need more room, use another sheet. Just remember to bring your notes to class the first day of school.

Have a wonderful summer.

Ms. Valvano
